

Opened: 1980
Superintendent: Bruce Hayes
Designer: Robert Trent Jones, Jr.

Challenge yourself on this classic mountain golf course that winds through lodgepole pines, around sage meadows, and across a nine-acre lake. Offering amazing panoramic views, the course follows the links style of a traditional Scottish course on the front nine, while the back nine presents a rolling mountain valley layout.

Details: 7:30 a.m. Meeting
8:30 a.m. Shotgun Start
1:30 p.m. Lunch

Format: Scramble (Affiliates have the opportunity to create a team of RMGCSA members and compete against other teams. If participants do not have a handicap, they must submit average score and a handicap will be estimated. Each team will be allocated 60% of the total team handicap and will require two drives from each player be utilized. For those individuals that are not on a team, you can still play individual stroke play but will not be eligible for prizes, or you can ask to be placed on a team if available.)

Directions: Take I-70 W to Silverthorne and take exit 205 for US-6 E toward Dillon. Keep left at the fork, following signs for US-6 E/Dillon. Turn left onto Blue River Parkway/US-6 E and drive 6.2 miles. Turn right onto W. Keystone Road (Co Rd 8), drive 0.4 miles and turn right onto Soda Ridge Road (Co Rd 4). Continue for 1 mile and turn left onto Co Rd 169. Continue straight onto Co Rd 150/Keystone Ranch Rd. Drive 1.6 miles and veer left at the 3-way split to enter the parking lots.

Soil Health - What Does It Mean and How Do You Measure It?
Dr. Tony Koski addresses how the soil health of your course is a measure of agronomic success and explores how cultural practices at your course can impact your soil health. Fertility practices and soil composition will be addressed as well as how to evaluate changes in soil health over time and amend current practices if needed to improve and ensure the continuation of healthy soil.

Speaker Information: Dr. Tony Koski, Colorado State University

Tony Koski is a professor at Colorado State University. He teaches turfgrass management and advises students in the Department of Horticulture and Landscape Architecture, and is an instructor for the Colorado Master Gardener program. As Colorado's Extension turf specialist, he works with all facets of Colorado's professional turf management industry, as well as home gardeners, to solve their turf problems.
